

Welsh Portmadoc Blue Grey™ Slate

Wallace International

slate
uk

Portmadoc Blue Grey Slate™ has been quarried and mined in North Wales since 1836 by the independently run Llechwedd quarry from rich deposits laid down in the Ordovician era around 500 million years ago.

Since these early days of production the quarry has built up a worldwide reputation for the beautiful blue grey slate, which is renowned for its performance, workability and durability.

During 2010 the quarry has seen a revival in production capacity due to new investment in machinery and skilled manpower. This means that this historic slate is readily available to order.

Welsh Portmadoc Blue Grey™ Slate

www.slate.uk.com

SLATE SPECIFICATIONS

Country of Origin:

United Kingdom

Colours:

Blue Grey

Texture:

Medium Riven Finish

Thickness:

4-6mm Nominal, 6-8mm Nominal
& Rustic Grade

Sizes:

Full range of sizes from 610x355mm (24x14")
To 255x150mm (10x6")

Performance:

TESTING	None
Water Absorption	None
Thermal Cycles Test	None
Sulphur Dioxide Test	None
Guarantee	None

Supply:

Extensive stocks are held at our distribution centres.

Nationwide and International delivery can be arranged for immediate despatch.